A Large House - A Great Blessing

When we first moved here and I was looking for a house, I did not set out to rent a place that could fit a family the size of the Bosjes. But I wanted to be near them, and the houses around them were all of a similar size. The Lord gave me a lovely home with three bedrooms that was partially furnished and had a modern kitchen with lots of counter space, plus a large craft/storage room and more. The rent is quite cheap, and the owners are very kind and helpful. Over the past three years, I have had the opportunity of using my house to serve the Lord better. The two extra rooms provide guest housing for overseas visitors like the Kalapps, who came to visit the ministry, and the large dining room/living room area is great for activities. In the past three weeks alone, I have had the privilege of hosting Daniel & Heidi Boles, a new team couple on a ten-day survey trip, held a Sunday school Easter activity, and hosted a baby shower for one of the team ladies. The maid's quarters in the back has also proved to be helpful for storing larger items for the church and team family.

Thanks for giving which makes all of this possible!

Several months ago we ran a program on our song tau route. One of the weeks, the promotion was "Pizza and Ping Pong at Miss Shari's." We had a high day for the program with 75! Praise the Lord we all fit. What a great time of fellowship. It gave me an awesome opportunity to share with my neighbors about our church and why I would be willing to open my home in such a way. I love that I am able to not only minister to the Thai people in their homes but also in my own home. I have found when you open your home to those you minister to, it lets them into your heart, and they love you all the more for it.
